Small Town Festival

Are you ready . . .

- To hear lots of music?
- To dance the day away?
- To see or buy a variety of art?
- To see what living the “Small Town” life is really like?

“I am looking forward to the Small Town Festival; it should be lots of fun.”

Doug Anderson, Mellencamp fan

Small Town Festival

The Small Town Festival celebrates the art, music, and culture of Seymour, Indiana.

The family-friendly festival will host a Band Showcase featuring many different types of music at the outdoor Don Hill amphitheater. Enjoy vendors, food, and artists of all kinds.

Join us as we celebrate Seymour's heritage as the hometown of musician and painter John Mellencamp, musician Larry Crane and artists Marilyn Mellencamp, Dianne Cartmel, Maureen O'Hara Pesta and the SICA Wednesday Group.

Parking Fee is $5.00 per car
(no limit on number of passengers per car)

Artists, sculptors, and vendors will be at the festival and tasty, inexpensive food will be available.

Kids of all ages are invited to attend the Small Town Festival!

Live Music

Plein-Air Painters

Art items, SICA t-shirts, and Mellencamp prints available

Raffle including a guitar and signed items by John Mellencamp

Kid-friendly activities such as face painting, tie-dying, clowns, mimes and traditional storytelling

While you're at the Center for the Arts, test your skills at making pottery. Be sure to visit the Conner Print Shop, which houses working antique printing presses and tells the story of printing throughout history.

"I have been a long-time fan of John Mellencamp and am very excited about this festival! It is nice to see the simplicity of rural life, and sites that are associated with John."

Carmen Parr, Mellencamp fan
